A BLEND OF STRENGTH AND CHARACTER

Old St. Croix Royal Danish Navy - Frogman was created as a tribute to the Danish Frogman Corps – an elite unit whose courage and strength help secure the safety we often take for granted. With every sip, you support the veteran organization Conventus Ranae (Latin for “a gathering of frogs”) – a community that fosters camaraderie among active and former frogmen. By the end of 2024, sales had generated more than €181,000 for this important cause.

Just like the extraordinary people it honors, Royal Danish Navy Frogman “Conventus Ranae” is a blend of power, depth, and character. Bottled at 60% ABV – a symbolic nod to the 60th anniversary of the Frogman Corps – it highlights complexity while keeping the sweetness elegantly in the background. A slow fermentation process precedes distillation, followed by aging in carefully selected oak casks to create a rich, balanced, and full-bodied profile.

Here's to strength. Here's to camaraderie.

TASTING NOTES

Aroma	Despite the high alcohol volume, it is a rather light nose, dominated by balsamic glaze and mocca with orange zest on top and a hint of toast
Taste	The alcohol is more present on the palate but in a nice and integrated way, where the notes from the nose all re-appear as well as pineapple and coconut
Finish	Very creamy with notes of dark chocolate and mocca
Color	Golden red
